

Evening at the pavilion

FINN
GURU

What could be more Finnish than an evening at a dance pavilion? Helena will teach you the secrets of couples-dancing and show you the way to true Saturday night fever. May I have this dance?

GUIDE: Helena | TRANSFERS: Included | MEALS: Small snacks

The evening starts with a dancing lesson in a training hall with Helena teaching you the first steps of Finnish couples-dancing. The style is free, and everyone will get the hang of it! You can practice while wearing your indoor shoes or just your socks but do have your dancing shoes ready to go.

When you have the dancing steps down to memory it is time to go to the pavilion for a fun and eventful evening. Dancing can make you hot, so men mostly wear straight trousers and a shirt with short sleeves while the ladies wear a skirt, a dress or a comfortable trouser suite. The main thing is you are comfortable!

This package includes the tickets to the pavilion as well as a hot or cold drink and a snack in the buffet. It's a good idea to bring your purse in case you feel the need for more sustenance.

You will spend the evening swinging in the rhythm of the music. During the lesson you will also have been taught how to find a dancing partner, so no-one will end up a wallflower. Welcome to the dancefloor!
